

ARNSTEIN'S FREED ACCOMPLICE HELD IN $78,000 THEFT

Gluck Planned New Bond
Larceny While Under Suspended Sentence.

Another case of participation in crime by a man at liberty under suspension of sentence came to light in Centre Street Police Court to-day, when Joseph Gluck, No. 955 Rogers Place, the Bronx; Gustav Zeitman, No. 837 East 10th Street, Flatbush, and Alexander Green of No. 68 West 114th Street were arraigned by Detectives Brown and Mayer on a charge of stealing $78,000 worth of bonds from a messenger employed by Thompson & McKenna, No. 42 Broadway, on Dec. 6. Assistant District Attorney Wilson, produced Police Headquarters records which established that Gluck was one of the "Nicky" Arnstein gang which made a business of corrupting Wall Street messengers and stole bonds of a face value of between $3,000,000 and $3,500,000.

Gluck and his brother Irving were tried and convicted before Judge Crain in the Court of General Sessions. Assistant District Attorney Dooling asked that they be treated leniently because they had given the District Attorney information which led to the recovery of more than $1,000,000 worth of the stolen bonds. Sentence was suspended. Gluck was placed on parole and reported regularly. Benjamin Fullman, a messenger for Thompson & McKenna started to deliver $78,000 in bonds on Dec. 6. Outside the office he met a young man who had cultivated his acquaintance for a month. He knew this young man as "Joe" and "Joe" had sometimes made deliveries for him. He entrusted the $78,000 worth of bonds to "Joe" and "Joe" disappeared. Last Friday Green appeared in a Brooklyn office in Wall Street and offered two of the bonds for sale. He was arrested by detectives summoned by the broker.

Green said he got the bonds from Zeitman. Detectives visited Zeitman's home yesterday and found the remainder of the bonds hidden in a hollow bedpost. Messenger Fullman recognized Zeitman as his old friend "Joe," and then Zeitman confessed that Gluck instructed him to get acquainted with the messenger and await his chance to grab a package of bonds. Gluck was arrested at his home last night. Magistrate Renaud held Gluck without bail to-day and fixed bail at $5,000 each in the cases of Green and Zeitman. Gluck will be taken before Judge Crain, who will sentence him on the old charge in the "Nicky" Arnstein case and then he will be placed on trial for stealing the Thompson and McKenna bonds.

BULLETS FLY IN BATTLE OF GANGS

Two Held on Suspicion of Felonious Assault After Fight in Harlem.

Vincenzo Orsello, twenty-four years old, of No. 400 East 110th Street, and Vincenzo Amore, twenty-six years old of Port Richmond, S. I., both laborers, arrested last night after a gun fight between rival gangs at 109th Street and First Avenue, were held to-day in $1,000 bail each by Magistrate Douglas in Harlem Court for examination Thursday on a charge of suspicion of felonious assault. Detective Butler and Kochman, who made the arrests, asked for the adjournment in order to learn if there were any victims of the fifteen or more shots which they said were fired by the gangsters. A search will be made of all hospitals and other medical institutions to learn if any one has applied for treatment of shot wounds.

TRAFFIC COP ACCUSED OF PEDDLING JEWELRY

Merchants Complain He Doesn't Have to Pay Rent as Competitor.

Patrolman Herman Jacobs, formerly a traffic officer at 42d Street and Broadway, now working in the obscurity of the Brownsville section of Brooklyn, was placed on trial before Deputy Commissioner Leach to-day on the charge of engaging in business while a member of the department. Times Square Jewellers objected, it was testified, to having a traffic policeman in the middle of the street competing with them and not having to pay rent.

Jack Curley, night promoter, said he had bought jewelry from Jacobs, who denied he had sold any. The case was adjourned until next Tuesday.

HOUSE AGENT WCTOR IN HOT WATER SUIT

Court Holds He Can't Be Convicted for Negligence.

Justices Herbert and O'Keefe in the Court of Special Sessions to-day decided that an agent for an apartment house accused of violating the Penal Law by failure to provide hot water for a tenant cannot be convicted unless it is shown that his failure was "wilful." Mere negligence, they held, is not enough for a conviction. Justice Murphy dissented.

The case was that of Israel Isaac, No. 312 East 178th Street, agent for an apartment house owned by his wife, Rebecca, at No. 419 Manhattan Avenue. The complaint was by a tenant, Mrs. Antoinette Williams, whose lease calls for hot water. She said Isaac failed to supply it on Nov. 23 last. Isaac was discharged.
